Those who have been called on to pay the costs in the fight against the cemetery, have got the amount reduced materially by many of the witnesses agreeing not to claim the fees to which they would legally be entitled. Much of the costs were on account of expert witnesses, many doctors being sworn, but many of these have concluded to throw off their costs. This will make the burden considerably lighter, and reduce the amount from about $600 to a little over $200.

W. Buchanan, of Buchanan & Wilson, Omaha, was in the city yesterday, after a young married man who, it is alleged, had disposed of some mortgaged jewelry. It appears the young man had become infatuated with a "lady of the town," and has squandered considerable money on her, besides making his "mash" presents of jewelry, etc., for which he presents of jewelry, etc., for which he had not fully paid. A night clerk in one of the hotels hearing that certain parties were planning to assault him, for a real or fancied grievance, prepared for such an emergency by borrowing a large revolver, all loaded. He confidentially explained the situation to one of the policemen, and cautiously showed the officer the weapon with which he expected to defend him-self. The officer discovered that the revolver had been loaded with blank cartridges, and it then leaked out that a job was being put up on the young man by which it was expected that he would be provoked into shooting, and the teasers would have a pocket full of fun as there were no balls in the cartridges to do any damage.

One young man, who had been out late, seeing his best girl, in returning through Bayliss park, was startled by seeing two men standing at the entrance, evidently waiting for him. One stood on each side of the entrance, and at once he con-cluded they were highwaymen waiting to close upon him as soon as he should get between them. He stopped about fifty feet away, pulled his trusty gun, and was preparing for battle, when one of the two spoke to him, and he made the happy discovery that they were two policemen The new police force does not seem to realize that the sight of police after dark is so unusual to many citizens, that they are liable to frighten a good citizen into dropping down with heart disease. CHANGES IN THE CITY SCHOOLS.

Doings of the County Board-The Bluffs' Part in the Omaha Musical Festival-Honey Creek Mystery Unsolved.

A Midnight Prowler.

About 1 o'clock yesterday morning Captain Anderson, of the merchant's police, noticed three suspicious acting fellows prowling about in the vicinity of the Masonic temple and along Bancroft street. One of them seemed to be examining Harkness Bros.'store, and from the way the fellows acted it seemed that a burglary or other mischief was brewing. Seeing the officer they scattered, and Anderson kept after one of them, and overtook him near J. T. Stewart's resi. dence. He called on the fellow to halt and throw up his nands, but the fellow tried to pull a revolver, and threatened the officer full of holes. Anderson had him covered with his revolver a little too quickly to allow him to pull his revolver, and marched nim to police headquarters. He there gave the name of George Ryan. He had a revolver, but little else. He was sent to jail for three days, and before the expiration of that time further information concerning him will possibly be gained. It is thought that he is an important capture, and that he was nipped just in time to prevent a burglary. The police are on the lookout for the two otners, but they have probably flown ere this Mystery Unsolved.

There has been as yet no identification of the body of the man found dead in Honey Creek. There is a supposition that he was Thomas Purcell, of La Plata, Neb. Last winter Mr. Purcell was in the city, and spent two days here with George Althy, who lives near the gas works. On January 2 he left here in search of work, going on foot along the line of the Northwestern railway, intending to go to Mis-Valley and then crossing into Nebraska, if he should fail to find employ-ment on this side. The body found was that of a young man about thirty years of age, four feet five inches in height, veight about 240 pounds, sandy hair and beard, and short moustache. He was dressed in black pants, a long patch on both legs, brown cottonade shirt, black sack coat black vest, dark brown overcoat, stoga boots, and red cotton hand-kerchief about his neck. Nothing was found in his pocket except three matches.

Avoca Happenings.
Avoca, Iowa, April 6.—Everything quiet out this way, save once in a while a little too much "sixty fights to the gallon" creates loud words, accompanied with emphatic gestures-without further harm or violence.

At the first meeting of the new council which occurred Monday night, their appointments were: City marshal, J. M. Long; night watch, D. Heller; treasurer (to till vacancy), J. W. Davis; city attorney, E. A. Babcock. The appointments of the above named gentlemen gives general satisfaction. Of course there are some who are never satisfied, and it is noticeable that those who grumble the most do not own city property or pay a cent tax, and ten chances to one live outside the city limits, and only make themselves notorious by trying to point out to our city officials their duties.

European Millions.

London Times: For many years the richest individual in all Russia was Herr Steiglitz. When he retired from affairs, in 1860, he held property to the value of nearly £2,000,000. But the richest men in the land of the Czars at the present time are the two Noble brothers. control more petroleum than any other oncern in the world. Their wealth is really beyond calculation, though a correspondent thinks that £80,000,000 is not an extravagant estimate.

It is to the Rothschilds, however, that belongs the honor of being richest among men. Their united properties pass even beyond the millions. In the last twelve years they have loaned to certain European governments nearly £90,000,000. Their fordly power is shown in a modern instance. In 1836 the Prussian government demanded an indemnity of £5,000, 000 from the city of Frankfort. The head of the Rothschild house in that city sent ord to Count Bismarck that if an attempt was made to force the levy he would break every bank in perin, and Bismarck was compelled to give way. In-ferior only to the Rothschilds are the Baring brothers, who have "at instantan-eous command" $50,000,000. Among the richest of moderns is the ezar of Russia, who enjoys from his personal estate an income of $2,000,000. There are several noblemen in England who have immense wealth at their com-mand. The dukes of Buccleuch, Devonshire and Norfolk and the marquis of Bute have each of them rent-rolls of £400,000 per annum. The duke of Portland who died recently, left unentailed prop-erty of over £2,000,000. The greater part of his palace was constructed under-ground. His banquet hall, ball-room, riding-school, and a number of superb guest rooms are veritable tunnels, decorated in a fashion so splendid as to seem, when described, like a story of the Magi.

Richer even than any of these millionaires is the duke of Westminster, who undoubtedly has the largest income of any individual in the world. His fortune lies largely in the Jiametrically opposite regions of London known as the West End and Seven Dials. He owns acre upon acre of the most aristocratic do-main in London, and his tenements cover miles in the worst slums in the world. His income is said to amount to £10 a

Between the Acts. New York Times: Dumley had estacted the landlady's daughter to the opera, and after the first act she said, in her girlish, insinuating way: "Wouldn't you like to step out and get a libretto, Mr. Dumley?" "No, I think not," replied Dumley, whose operatic experience was somewhat limited; "if a man can't escort a lady to the theatre without going out between the acts he should either stay at home or go alone."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Cactoria, When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria, When she had Children, she gave them Castoria, An Executive Session.

Washington Critic: She was the daughter of a senator, and her swheart had been to see her every night since Lent had given them time and op-portunity. Her father became somewhat alarmed, and this morning he called her into his study. "Well, papa," she said, sweetly; "you sent for me. What is it?" into his study. "Well, papa, "she said, sweetly; "you sent for me. What is it?"
"My dear daughter," he replied, "I believe Mr. Blank has been to see you every night for some time pust?" "Yes, papa." "And he was here last night: "Yes, papa." "Well, daughter, I want to know what occurred between you during your protracted! interview in the parlor: I ask it, my child, because I have especial reasons for wishing to know."
"Dear papa," replied the girl with tears in her eyes, "I do not doubt your right to ask what occurred there; but, papa, it was an executive session; and, papa, you was an executive session, would not have me divulge the secrets of such a meeting, would you?" The old such a meeting, would you?" man said never a word in reply.

From the Council Bluffs Daily Herald: Mrs. E. M. Gerard, wife of Engineer Gerard, of the Union Pacific, this city, has been a great sufferer for many years, with what was supposed to be cancer of the throat. It was so bad that she was threatened with starvation- Her general health was completely broken down. She could only swallow liquid food, and even that her stomach could not digest or assimilate Physicians of Council Bluffs and Omahn gave no relief. Dr. Jefferis, of this city, was called. In four weeks' time he cured her throat, and has completely restored her general health Had Mrs. Gerard not obtained relief soon she would have died from blood poison, the same condition that destroyed the life of Gen. Grant' Dr. Jefferies' diptheria medicine is infallible i
